Driving Perfection
in Petroleum Services

Cavert (Pty) Limited t/a Petromas is a 100% Botswana citizen-owned petroleum distribution company headquartered in Gaborone, Botswana, and registered under the Botswana Companies Act Cap 42:01. Operating both nationally and regionally, We services a diverse range of downstream fuel offtakers encompassing mining companies, parastatals, governmental organizations and private entities. Petromas has two sister companies in the same industry – MasOil Pty Ltd which is registered and based in Botswana and Petromas Energy Pty Ltd registered and based in South Africa. We pride ourselves in having built a robust reputation in the fuel sector over many years of having played in the industry.

Our core focus is to provide end-to-end petroleum supply and logistics solutions ensuring continuity in the entire supply chain. Petromas operates with professionalism, integrity, business ethics, and strict adherence to the International Chamber of Commerce best practices and national legislations in the countries it operates in. Our commitment is to deliver unparalleled service and foster mutually beneficial long-term relationships with our clients.

Driving Efficiency in Every Drop

VISION

Our vision to become the preferred partner for petroleum supply and logistics in the African continent, delivering reliable, efficient, and sustainable solutions that fuel the continent's growth while maintaining service excellence and expanding our regional footprint.

MISSION

We seek to offer a formal, reliable alternative fuel supply channel in the region, reducing over-reliance on multinational suppliers. As collaboration is key in the fuel sector, inevitably we still insist on working with multinational oil marketing companies and maintain strong relationships with them. We aim to service the downstream market with high quality tested hydrocarbon and petrochemical products from world renowned refineries.

OBJECTIVES

We intend to achieve our vision and mission and fulfill challenges in the industry by:

1. Specializing in the supply of various petroleum products and services

2. Offering end-to-end holistic solutions for petroleum supply and distribution

3. Operating proactively and innovatively in accordance with industry best practices

Value Proposition Strategy

Our value proposition is centered on delivering cost-effective, reliable, and efficient solutions while providing clients with flexible financial arrangements. Through our strong banking relationships, we offer significant competitive advantages:

- Direct Refinery Procurement: Leveraging strategic trade finance facilities, Petromas procures petroleum products directly from reputable refineries and global suppliers, ensuring uninterrupted supply at competitive pricing.

Credit Facilities for Clients:

- Petromas extends credit terms to blue-chip and mid-cap clients, enabling them to better manage their cash flow and operational needs.

- Financial flexibility supports business continuity, ensuring clients focus on core operations while we manage procurement and delivery.
- Guaranteed Supply Continuity: With access to trade finance and a robust procurement network, we ensure timely delivery and minimize supply disruptions.

By combining our financial strength, operational excellence, and access to global suppliers, We position ourselves as a trusted strategic partner, providing solutions that drive client growth and success.

PROCUREMENT NETWORK

Petromas maintains strong procurement relationships across Southern Africa to ensure consistent supply and high-quality standards. Key partnerships include reputable refineries and distributors across the globe that have impeccable track records in the petrochemical and hydrocarbon industry. We have access to refineries out of the Middle East, Asia, East and West Africa. These multiple partnerships enable us to mitigate procurement risks and offer a robust supply chain tailored to client needs.

Driving Efficiency in Every Drop

Fuel Logistics Redefined.

LOGISTICS

To complement the supply of the above-mentioned petroleum products, in conjunction with its strategic partners, Petromas provides logistics to its clientele by both rail and road, using its partners' own logistics equipment to ensure continuity of supply. This also enables Petromas to formulate customized (tailor-made) fuel delivery solutions to our clients.

Our transporters' delivery vehicles are equipped with advanced satellite tracking devices that enable the generation of frequent tracking reports. This insures that customers are always up to date with the whereabouts of their cargo and allows them to plan accordingly.

Petromas offers a consolidated package that includes all the import procedures necessary to get the product to its customers on time i.e., transport, customs clearance and delivery.

Our strategy ensures that whether you're a major industry player or a growing business, Petromas provides the resources, reliability, and relationships to fuel your success.

DIRECTORSHIP

MR. PETER MASIE

Qualifications: Bachelor of Commerce (Accounting), ACCA Part II
Position: Managing Director
Brief Biography:

Before Petromas came to life, its founder and Managing Director, Mr. Masie, a visionary entrepreneur, dedicated four years to meticulous research and analysis of the oil and gas industry, with a particular focus on Platt's markets in the Southern African region. His journey involved extensive travel and networking with key industry players, allowing him to gain a comprehensive understanding of the sector's dynamics.

Through these efforts, Mr. Masie identified the critical components of the industry and closely examined the movement of products from refinery to end-user. This deep dive highlighted essential factors such as pricing policies, supply and demand trends, import/export regulations, global arbitrage challenges, and health, safety, and security considerations.

Despite the dominance of multinational corporations in the market, Mr. Masie recognized a unique opportunity to enter the arena and serve the downstream sector. This vision and determination ultimately led to the founding of Petromas, a company built on insight, innovation, and a commitment to excellence in the energy industry.
